Ike Fears Slash In Air Power

Death Blow Again Dealt Storm Area

Town Hit By Flood 10 Days Ago Razed By Terrific Winds

BULLETIN

TORONTO, Ont. (INS)—The Canadian Meteorological Bureau warned today that a tornado might strike the Toronto area sometime between 2 p. m. and midnight tonight.

ST. LOUIS (U-P)—Tornadoes struck a second death blow at Missouri yesterday in as many days by claiming 14 more lives for a total of 51 and 270 injured.

Small towns in southern and eastern Missouri were hit by a rash of tornadoes even as workmen still dug in the rubble of Kansas City suburbs where less than 24 hours before a tornado claimed 37 lives and injured 200 persons. Six persons were killed in a twister which leveled Fremont, a town of 207 which only 10 days ago was hit by a flash flood. One man was killed at nearby Van Buren and a hundred miles to the north-east seven more persons perished in and around Desloge, 60 miles south of St. Louis.

Hundreds Made Homeless
Some 70 persons were left injured in the wake of the deadly black funnels. Hundreds were homeless.

The rapid-fire chain of tornadoes, spawned by the same sultry weather disturbances that gave birth to the year's deadliest tornado in Kansas City's outskirts at sundown Monday, struck the most vicious blow at Fremont.

There a twister sheared the second floor from a two-story brick school and then roared on into town.

It sounded like a jet plane as it came in from the west," Alvin Bell, one of the survivors, related. He credited a tornado alert four hours earlier with saving at least 100 persons who took cover in storm cellars.

Only seven homes at Fremont were left intact. Six business buildings and 40 homes were flattened.

At Desloge, witnesses said residents were lucky to escape with only three dead as a twister cut a path of havoc six blocks wide. Three other persons were killed at a family reunion at a farm home 15 miles northeast of there.

O. M. McLeod, a miner of nearby Flat River who watched the twister hit Desloge, said it sounded like "a steam engine with burned-out bearings pulling a string of freight cars."

The twisters did many strange things. At Desloge it picked up Bobby Tiefenauer's two-story frame house and turned it about before setting it down 200 yards away.

Only an hour before the storm struck, some 400 students at the Desloge High School had completed classes and were dismissed. The school was heavily damaged. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Teenagers Riot Brings Council Curb On Dances

BERNALILLO, N.M. (U-P)—The Town Council ruled last night youngsters under 18 cannot attend public dances unless accompanied by parents or guardians.

The action was the result of what officers called a riot by 200 teenagers early Sunday. Police said it took three state policemen and seven county and local officers to quiet them.

The Council also advanced a generally unobserved curfew from 10 p. m. to 9 p. m. and said it was to be enforced.

Roman Scandal Defendants Exonerated By Prosecution

VENICE (U-P)—The prosecution today absolved the three principal defendants in Italy's notorious Wilma Montesi scandal.

Prosecutor Cesare Palminteri asked a three-judge court to return verdicts of innocence for Giovanni Piccioni, jazz pianist son of a former foreign minister; Rome man-about-town Ugo Montagna; and former Rome Police Chief Saverio Polito.

Lodge Meets Egypt Rebuff In Suez Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (U-P)—The Suez Canal issue was back on the shelf today after an inconclusive Security Council debate touched off by France's call for new negotiations on Egypt's unilateral operation of the waterway.

The two-day discussion achieved only one concrete result—a request by Council President Henry Cabot Lodge of the United States that Egypt amplify her rules for running the canal.

Egyptian delegate Omar Loutfi indicated he had little intention of making any such amplification.

Loutfi received quick support as usual from Russian Delegate Arkady A. Sobolev, who asserted Lodge's summary at the debate reflected the views of individual members and not the Council as a whole.

French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau, who came to New York to press demands for new attempts at a canal settlement more to the West's liking, told the Council the debate had cleared up "important questions."

Observers in Paris had felt Premier Guy Mollet's government was reopening the canal question in an effort to confound critics at home of its domestic policy. If that was the purpose, it also failed.

Ike Gets Backed By Church Group

NEW YORK (U-P)—Leaders of the National Council of Churches praised President Eisenhower last night for "clear, forthright leadership" on the foreign aid issue.

A telegram sent to the White House by the leaders just after the President's radio and television address to the nation said in part: "We hope your leadership will bring favorable active support among church people, the Congress, and the citizens of our land."

Truck Driver Killed

BALTIMORE (U-P)—William F. Allison, 23, of Whiteford, Md., was killed today when his truck crashed into the rear of another truck stopped for a traffic signal in suburban Resedale.

Warmer, Wet Weather Due

BALTIMORE (U-P)—Five-day forecast: Warmer Thursday, Friday and Saturday, cooler Sunday or Monday. Scattered afternoon or evening thundershowers Thursday through Saturday. Temperatures will average 2 to 5 degrees above normal, and precipitation will total one-half to three-fourths of an inch. Normal highs are in the 70s.

Strike Threat Facing Haiti New Regime

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (U-P)—Haiti's new military regime today faced a general strike in Port au Prince and the threat that the work stoppage might spread to the rest of the turbulent Negro republic.

An Army spokesman said troops would be used only if disorders developed.

It remained to be seen whether Haiti's politicians whose rivalry for the presidency has kept the country in turmoil for six months could again paralyze the country.

Business establishments and the post office closed down in Port au Prince yesterday shortly after the army chief, Brig. Gen. Leon Cantave, 45, dissolved the Executive Council which had incurred growing opposition ever since leading presidential candidates chose it April 5 to rule the country.

Acting with the solid support of his army officers, Cantave declared the military was taking control to prevent anarchy and economic ruin. He pledged that the army would step out as soon as a provisional president is selected.

Beck Would Get Salary Even If He's Ousted

WASHINGTON (U-P)—Dave Beck, when and if ousted as Teamsters Union president, probably still will draw his $50,000 annual salary.

John F. English, Teamsters general secretary-treasurer now seeking Beck's ouster, said Beck is entitled to continue receiving that amount as a pension "and nothing can change that."

Miller Has Surgery

EASTON, Md. (U-P)—Rep. Edward T. Miller (R-Md.) was operated on yesterday at Bethesda Hospital but is not expected to be hospitalized more than a few days.

Police Seize Two Bandits, Recover Loot

WICKLIFFE, Ky. (U-P)—Kentucky police officers yesterday foiled a getaway attempt of two men who had robbed a Mounds, Ill., bank of $44,000.

The men fled across the Ohio River in a fast motorboat, but found police waiting on the Kentucky side. After waiving extradition, they were returned to Murphysboro, Ill., by federal officers.

Authorities said $36,819.50 was recovered from two paper sacks in their possession.

The gunmen, identified by state police as Arthur Kerner, 30, and Robert Ferrise, 34, both of St. Paul, Minn., staged a daylight holdup at the First State Bank of Mounds.

They fled in a $100 automobile they had purchased Monday in Cairo, Ill., and left it at the wharf where they had tied their boat.

They cleaned the bank's vault except for a lone dollar bill, then attempted to lock Rita Graddy, and Adam Casper, assistant bank cashiers, in the vault. A time mechanism on the lock foiled that move.

Illinois authorities alerted Kentucky police by radio. They were apprehended about five miles downstream about an hour after the robbery. State Trooper Marvin Monroe said the men ran when they saw the officers, but surrendered without a fight when a shot was fired over their heads.

Missile Testing Base Blast Mild

COCOA, Fla. (U-P)—A "mild explosion" occurred at Patrick Air Force Base last night during a guided missile firing operation.

Major Gen. Daniel Yates, base commander, said no one was hurt and no property damage was suffered.

Yates described the incident as a "mild explosion and fire connected with a missile firing."

Truman Appeals For Foreign Aid

KANSAS CITY (U-P)—Former President Harry S. Truman demanded last night that the U.S. continue its military and economic aid programs for free nations as a deterrent to Communist aggression.

"We must insist on the continuance of our defense programs and our programs to strengthen the power of the free nations to resist aggression," he said in a speech to a Democratic party fund raising dinner here.

The first day's six showings drew 6,322 spectators. The second day audience was estimated at 4,000. Normally the downtown theater draws 7,000-8,000 fans a day.

Coty Seeks Premier In New Crisis

Mollet Quits Post After Losing Vote On Algerian Issue

By JOSEPH E. DYNAN
PARIS (U-P)—President Rene Coty today began the recurrent, wearisome task of looking for a new French premier. The National Assembly last night rejected Guy Mollet's austerity program to finance the Algerian campaign, and the Socialist Premier promptly resigned.

Another long period of political instability appeared in prospect, with the likelihood that the government eventually would fall to another of the uneasy center coalitions which has ruled France most of the time since World War II.

Visit Seen Postponed
The new political crisis threatened to cancel or at least postpone Coty's official visit to the United States. He is due in New York June 3.

Most prominently mentioned as successors to Mollet were Pierre Miquelin, national chairman of the left-center Catholic MRP—the Popular Republican Movement—and former Premier Rene Pleven, leader of a splinter group affiliated with the so-called Leftist Rally.

The Assembly voted 250-213 yesterday to reject Mollet's proposals for new taxes and cuts in the non-military budget to provide more than a billion dollars for the French campaign against the Algerian nationalist rebels.

Actually 258 votes—a majority of the total Assembly membership—were required to force the government's resignation on the vote of confidence. But Mollet, because he had lost, conformed with tradition and took his Cabinet's resignation to Coty just before midnight.

Sets Postwar Record
The Socialist premier resigned after 18 months in office, a postwar record for France. For months he had stayed in power because of the "benevolent neutrality" of the conservative Independents. Although they opposed Socialist domestic policy, they supported Mollet's tough policy against Egypt in the Suez Canal dispute and against the rebels in Algeria. Accordingly they abstained on many crucial votes reducing the size of the majority.

Mollet needed to turn back his more determined opponents.

In the final debate Mollet's followers again sought refuge in the international situation with appeals for support in Algeria and by reopening the Suez Canal dispute before the U. N. Security Council. This time the maneuver failed.

Demands For Slash In Foreign Aid Rise

WASHINGTON (U-P)—Demands for big cuts in foreign aid spending persisted in Congress today despite President Eisenhower's charge that economy advocates are gambling blindly and recklessly along a road to free world "disaster."

The President stripped off the velvet gloves last night in a nationwide television-radio appeal for support of the administration's $3,855,000,000 mutual security program.

He spoke of "those blindly striving to save the money that must be spent as the price of peace," and said he doesn't propose to "take that gamble."

A week ago last night Eisenhower made a strong pitch on television and radio for his general $71,800,000,000 spending budget for the fiscal year starting July 1.

But at a meeting with newsmen the next day he refused to take a tough line with members of his own party in Congress who disagree with him on spending and other matters. He talked again at that time of the possibility of squeezing fat from the spending program.

Eisenhower went on the air last night after formally submitting his foreign aid program to the lawmakers during the day. In a special message he said it would be "supreme folly" for America to cripple its allies against communism "through an overweening zeal to scrimp."

"To try to save money at the risk of such damage is neither conservative nor constructive. It is reckless."

"It could mean the loss of peace. It could mean the loss of freedom. It could mean the loss of both."

Doolittle Raid Film Draws Crowds In Tokyo

TOKYO (U-P)—An expurgated American movie depicting Lt. Gen. James Doolittle's air raid on Tokyo in 1942 opened yesterday in the Japanese capital. The theater operator predicted that the film "Thirty Seconds Over Tokyo" would be a record flop.

The first day's six showings drew 6,322 spectators. The second day audience was estimated at 4,000. Normally the downtown theater draws 7,000-8,000 fans a day.

Cites Danger To Program For Defense

President Asserts He Won't Approve Tax Cut Proposals

WASHINGTON (U-P)—President Eisenhower said today about half of the 2½ billion dollar cut in defense funds voted by a House committee would cut directly into the nation's guided missile and aircraft programs.

The country is going to suffer if the reduction approved by the House Appropriations Committee is allowed to stand with respect to these fields, Eisenhower told a news conference.

He also said he never will agree to a tax cut while the budget is in what he called its current precarious state of balance.

"Not Real Budget Cut"
Discussing the 2½ billion dollar defense reduction approved by the House committee, Eisenhower said about $1,300,000,000 of it is not a budget cut at all but a book-keeping tactic.

He went on to say that $1,200,000,000 of the proposed reduction would, however, cut directly into the defense program in such fields as aircraft and guided missiles.

At that point, Eisenhower said we are going to have to suffer if that portion of the cut stands. He expressed hope the Senate will restore every cent of the $1,200,000,000.

The President, wearing a gray suit with a white shirt and blue figured tie, spent most of the time answering questions about the administration's $71,800,000,000 budget for the fiscal year starting July 1.

But he also dealt with these other matters:

LEADERSHIP—Eisenhower said he never has even considered asking Sen. Knowland of California, or anyone else, to resign from a position of congressional leadership because of disagreement with him. Knowland is the GOP Senate leader.

As for differences with party leaders in Congress, Eisenhower said he personally is committed to support of the Republican party's 1956 platform.

TRIES TO SUPPORT GOP
POLITICS—Eisenhower said he always endeavors to support all Republican nominees for Congress because he feels so strongly that both the White House and the legislative branch should be controlled by the same party.

He went on to say, that when it comes to who he is for enthusiastically for congressional office and who he is just for, that is another matter.

Eisenhower's remarks were in reply to a question whether he would follow his practice of the past and give blanket endorsement to all Republican candidates for Congress, regardless of their voting records.

Whisky Exhibit 'Evaporates' At Maryland Trial

UPPER MARLBORO, Md. (U-P)—When the jury found Jack H. Burke guilty of selling whisky on Sunday, defense lawyers announced they would seek a new trial.

The lawyers, Ignatius Keane and Joseph A. Depaul, told Judge John B. Gray that the bottle of 86 proof evidence which the jury examined during deliberations was not as full as advertised.

Keane added: "Consumption of intoxicating beverages is grounds for a mistrial."

Teamster 'Cleanup Squad' Drafts Plans To Oust Beck

WASHINGTON (U-P)—A Teamsters member of the union for more than a half century. He said a year-old John F. English, newly named as an AFL-CIO vice president, mapped plans today to oust Dave Beck as Teamsters president.

English planned an informal strategy session with fellow members of the Teamsters Executive Board who, like him, are determined that Beck must go. Their determination grew from Senate Hatchery Committee charges that Beck helped himself to vast sums of Teamsters funds.

English has been general secretary-treasurer of the Teamsters for more than a decade, and a "guilty" of corruption charges.

Graham Cites New York People Too Busy For God

By GEORGE CORNELL
NEW YORK—(AP)—Lies in business dealing . . . Double sex lives . . . Obsession with money making. These, Billy Graham says, are some of New York's moral ills.

"You're too busy," he told 17,500 people last night, and his arm swept the vast Madison Square Garden. "That's what's wrong with New York. You're too busy for God."

"But there is coming a day when you won't be too busy," he thundered.

"That is the day when you stand before the judgment of God, and He says, 'Depart from me, you cursed, I never knew you.' You had no time for me. Depart from me into outer darkness."

At the close of his sermon, Graham gripped the rail of the platform, half leaning across it, appealing to listeners to repent and "surrender your heart to Christ."

"It's hard," he said, fingers tight on the rail, eyes closed. "It's hard to bow your head and say, 'God I am a sinner.'"

Lead by a blind man tapping his white cane, 605 men and women and young folk came forward at Graham's plea, bringing the total of such decisions to 4,524 in seven nights.

In his sermon, the tall, handsome evangelist declared that lying has become a part of "business transactions every day."

"Lies! Lies! Lies!" he hammered the word. "They call it smart business. How much advertising is a lie? God calls it by its right name. To Him, there is no such thing as a white lie. They're all black."

He said greed and lust for money have so immersed the economic scene that "many men are ready to go to hell to get a better job."

Graham hit at what he said was the absorption of people in movies, television and other entertainment to the point that they have no time for church or prayer. He cited occasions when Jesus played all night, and said: "How long since you have spent the night in prayer? How long since you've spent an hour in prayer . . . a half hour . . . 15 minutes?"

He called on Christians present to "redouble your prayers"—at home, on the subway, in offices, shops—"pray without ceasing that God will send a mighty spiritual stir to restore the moral soul of the city of New York."

The text was from John 8:1-11, telling of the adulterous woman whom the Pharisees brought before Jesus, demanding whether he accepted the Mosaic law that she should be stoned to death. Jesus instead offered forgiveness and told the woman to "go and sin no more."

The American bulb industry, though young, produces about 12,317,000 bulbs annually.

Cites Danger

Russia.

The more that intelligent men think about the arms race, the more they realize progress toward disarmament must be made. Eisenhower added, Alluding then to talks with Russia which have been going on in London, Eisenhower said the United States must not be ploys and must be willing to meet the Russians half way.

But in the light of history with respect to the way the Soviets fail to keep agreements, he said, this country must also be especially careful in entering into any inspection pact.

REACTION—Eisenhower said public reaction to his television, radio and news conference efforts in behalf of his spending budget has gradually turned in favor of the administration's position. At first, he added, most people either were inclined to question the administration's spending plans or to be hostile.

Asked whether he plans more direct-to-the-people appeals, Eisenhower replied—with a smile but emphatically—that as long as he is in a fight he never rests.

ATOMIC TEST—Eisenhower said the only atomic weapons tests now scheduled, so far as he knows, are those to be held shortly in Nevada.

He made that reply when asked about reports that the United States is arranging to carry on the new H-bomb tests next year.

OIL—Asked whether he would favor a cut in the 2½ per cent tax depletion allowance now given to oil producers, Eisenhower responded that he was not prepared to say that allowance is an evil.

He said there is no doubt that some rich men take unfair advantage of the allowance, but that on the other hand there must be some incentive to encourage the development of oil resources.

Two Youths Convicted Of Attempted Assault

BALTIMORE (AP)—Two 18-year-old youths, Andrew Bogdan and Howard Riener, faced prison terms of seven years each today for attempting to rape a neighbor woman.

Elkins Gets Prison Term

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Big Jim Elkins, the racketeer whose revelations touched off Portland's year-long vice probe, yesterday was sentenced to 20 months in federal prison for wiretapping.

U. S. Dist. Judge William East also fined Elkins $2,000 and then released him on bail because of motions pending for a new trial.

East imposed a six-month prison sentence and a $500 fine on Raymond Clark, a former St. Helens, Ore., police chief who was Elkins' employee and co-defendant.

Clark also was released on bail.

Each man was convicted on seven counts of wiretapping and could have received a one-year sentence and $10,000 fine on each.

Malayan Troops Kill Top Communist Chief

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (AP)—Malay troops killed a top Communist leader last night in a camp seven miles from Kuala Lumpur.

Ah Fatt, 62-year-old chief of the Communist guerrilla organization in Selangor State, died with six bullets in his body. Another guerrilla with him was captured.

Center Picketed

COCOA, Fla. (AP)—The nation's largest guided missile center was blocked by picket lines today but an official of the vast Air Force installation said missile operations would continue.

Truck drivers, helpers and warehousemen working for a construction contractor threw up picket lines yesterday and 2,000 men stopped work on projects at the guided missile center on Cape Canaveral and at Patrick Air Force Base, 190 miles north of Miami on Florida's East Coast.

GI Says He Shot In Self Defense

TAIPEI (AP)—U. S. Army M. Sgt. Robert G. Reynolds told a court martial today he fired two shots at a man he found peeping through a bathroom window after the man started toward him with an object that looked like a steel rod, pipe or stick.

Reynolds is accused of wilfully killing a Chinese, Lin Tze-Jan, 33, the night of March 20 outside the sergeant's home near Taipei.

Reynolds, who was born at Coopers, Md., lists Coatsville, Pa., as his home.

Fifty workmen were needed recently to wash the 67-year accumulation of dirt from the Eiffel Tower in Paris.

Balters Rural Towns
The twisters bounced around on both sides on the Mississippi River below St. Louis and continued to strike long after dark. One was sighted near Fredericktown, Mo.

In rural southern Illinois it struck at scattered points, including the Alto Pass, Columbia, Claremont and Herrard areas.

In Missouri twisters were reported at Monticello in the north-eastern part of the state; at Squires in the southern Ozark foothills; at Centerville, 40 miles north of Fremont, and at Kennett, a town of 10,000. The one at Kennett struck after midnight, eight hours after the first one raked Van Buren. No deaths or injuries were reported in those areas.

CHICAGO (AP)—Most grain futures moved slightly lower at the opening of the Board of Trade today, but no outstanding selling pressure was apparent.

Fine Rebuffed By Voters In Pennsylvania Primary

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Former Gov. John S. Fine met voter rejection in yesterday's Pennsylvania primary as he sought unsuccessfully to make a political comeback in Luzerne County where he had been Republican boss for nearly 30 years.

Fine's defeat in his first bid for public office since his voluntary retirement in 1955 was the high spot of an election that attracted barely a million of the Keystone State's 5,247,925 registered voters.

There was no statewide contest. Organization slates of both Democratic and Republican parties won everywhere.

The nation's No. 1 citizen, President Eisenhower, was among the millions of Pennsylvanians who didn't vote. He was busy in the White House polishing up messages on foreign aid.

Eisenhower maintains legal residence outside Gettysburg where he has a farm.

Voters nominated mayors in 25 cities.

The Democrats gained a seat in the State House of Representatives as a result of a special election in Montour County.

The Democratic mayors of Pottsville and Scranton, each seeking an unprecedented fourth term, again won their party's nomination.

Double Exposes Trump Break

"Nicely played," beamed North. "Nicely played my fool," growled East. "If my partner had just kept his silly mouth shut you would have gone down."

West had been guilty of one of the worst bridge crimes. He had doubled and thereby succeeded in locating the cards for declarer.

East won the opening club lead with the ace and returned the suit. South won the second trick, cashed one high trump and then planned his play.

He decided that West's double had been based on five trumps, and that another trump play would be suicidal. Hence he played the king of diamonds, overtook with dummy's ace and ruffed a second diamond.

This brought him down to the same number of trumps as West. The king of clubs and the ace king and a low heart came next and West was in with the queen

Double Exposes Trump Break

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Series

"Nicely played," beamed North. "Nicely played my fool," growled East. "If my partner had just kept his silly mouth shut you would have gone down."

West had been guilty of one of the worst bridge crimes. He had doubled and thereby succeeded in locating the cards for declarer.

East won the opening club lead with the ace and returned the suit. South won the second trick, cashed one high trump and then planned his play.

He decided that West's double had been based on five trumps, and that another trump play would be suicidal. Hence he played the king of diamonds, overtook with dummy's ace and ruffed a second diamond.

This brought him down to the same number of trumps as West. The king of clubs and the ace king and a low heart came next and West was in with the queen

Butler Slated For Sentence Tomorrow

Judge Ernest A. See of Mineral County Circuit Court will sentence Howard S. Butler, 35, Piedmont, tomorrow for the December 30 slaying of Mrs. Velma Marie (Greenhorn) Sharon.

Butler, who was charged with murder by the January term of the grand jury of Mineral County, was found guilty of involuntary manslaughter on May 10 by an all-male jury which deliberated about two hours before reaching the verdict.

Counsel for Butler and Prosecuting Attorney Donald C. Hott will be in the court room at the time of the sentencing. The maximum penalty is one year in the county jail, $1,000 fine, or both.

The rifle slaying of Mrs. Sharon occurred early in the morning in Butler's apartment on Ashfield Street in Piedmont. He was wounded as a result of the dual-shooting and underwent plastic surgery at Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore.

He was shot in the left side and also in the lower left part of his face.

Counsel for the defendant were Joseph A. Blundon, Keyser attorney, and Edward J. Ryan, local attorney. Butler claimed the shooting of Mrs. Sharon was accidental.

Printer Buys Ad On Anniversary

PHENIX CITY, Ala. (AP)—Haywood Waters, a print shop employee, celebrated his 13th wedding anniversary by buying a full page, $120 ad in a weekly newspaper.

A heart was centered on the page and underneath it this message:

"Today marks a very important time for me. For it was on this day 15 years ago that my wonderful wife Margaret was married to me. . . . These 15 years have been the happiest, fullest, most joyful that any man could hope for. My love for you Margaret has multiplied a thousand times and . . . the years ahead promise even greater love. Happy Anniversary, Margaret."

Said Mrs. Waters: "He sure is sweet."

OUR COUNTRY
The union of hearts, the union of hands and the flag of our Union forever.—Morris.

Highway Problem

ALMOST A YEAR has passed since Congress voted the 27.5-billion-dollar highway program designed to give the country a 41,000-mile network of super-highways. It's a good time to see what's been accomplished. By the height of the summer tourist season only some 200 miles of this nationwide web will have been laid down. But thereafter things are expected to pick up gradually—according to plan. The goal for 1961, four years from now, is 8,000 miles. The remaining four-fifths of the network will be built over an additional 12-year period.

SIXTEEN YEARS is a long time, especially when we know that the U. S. population, and with it the traffic volume, will be rising at a steep rate in that interval. We can hope that when the great system is finished it will still be adequate for the load it must bear. But we cannot help but have misgivings, for too many superroads have been built only to be saddled with a congestion that makes them seem instantly out of date. Already the highway planners have been hit by rising labor and material costs, and obviously bigger advances in these items can be expected over the years. The 27.5-billion-dollar figure plainly is nothing more than a guidepost to the ultimate cost of this vital network.

CONGRESS CANNOT allow this problem to impede the development of the interstate system. Indeed, it would be well if it could find some way to speed the progress of the program. Under present plans it will proceed at the rate of about 3,000 miles of highway a year after 1961. Meantime, as the 123-mile Massachusetts turnpike opens to add one of the last major links to the U. S. toll road system, the nation's motorists can be grateful it has these superb roadways to ride upon. They do not cover the nation, but they ease the traffic flow in some of the country's most crowded areas. They're worth what you have to pay at the toll gate.

Put Up Or Shut Up

BASEBALL Commissioner Ford Frick has clamped a silence on baseball owners discussing any proposed changes of franchise. "Let O'Malley and Stoneyham put up or shut up," Frick is said to have told a reporter over the telephone. He was referring to the owners of the Brooklyn Dodgers and the New York Giants. The occasion for Frick's order was the visit of Mayor George Christopher of San Francisco to New York and a meeting he is reported to have held with Horace Stoneyham of the Giants. Stories and rumors about a migration of both the Dodgers and Giants to California became front page news in New York, with a resultant murkiness in the metropolitan baseball picture. No move to another city can be made until next October, but it is now generally believed by baseball writers that the Dodgers will move to Los Angeles. Whether this belief be true or not, the situation is now one of confusion to fans. It is even beginning to look as though the end of an era in New York has come for National League ball. But appearances notwithstanding, it is difficult to conceive of the National League abandoning the New York area. It is one that remains a potentially rich source of revenue.

Curbing Quacks

POSTMASTER General Summerfield said recently that offers of phony "sure cures" through the mails are more common today than ever before. His postal inspectors are doing their best to curb this abuse of the mails, and in the last 12 months almost 200 cases have been dealt with. The quack cure is one of the most despicable kinds of fraud. It preys upon the hopes of people who are often suffering greatly from disease. It sometimes prevents them from seeking proper medical care that might lead to a real cure. People who will stoop to enrich themselves from the misery of other people deserve very little consideration. Yet the postal authorities can only do so much to keep such crooked schemes within bounds. The cooperation of people who receive such mail is necessary. Reporting "sure-cure" schemes can put an end to them quickly. It can protect people who are too gullible, or too desperately hopeful, from unscrupulous promoters seeking an easy way to make money.

Thomas L. Stokes Alliance Pattern Changing In Congress

WASHINGTON — If you watch closely the operation of Congress these days, you notice a change in pattern, with new combinations within the two parties to replace old alliances.

This crisscross of party lines between Republicans and Democrats to create new mixed parties on an even larger scale than usual accounts for some of the trouble President Eisenhower currently is experiencing.

To the President's discomfort, the old familiar coalition between Republicans, chiefly from the Midwest, and conservative Southern Democrats still functions in the field of social welfare measures.

We had a graphic demonstration of that recently in the House raid on appropriations for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, which Republican conservatives were able to make with the aid of Southern Democrats.

AN ANALYSIS shows a majority of Republicans in the House sided against the Administration in the case of 12 out of 14 cuts made in that department's appropriations, with Democrats casting a majority of the votes responsible for slashing two of the appropriation items.

In the 12 other cases, a majority of Democrats voted with the Administration. Dramatizing the Republican revolt in the House was the fact that on nine of the 14 cuts, both the House Republican leader, Representative Joe Martin of Massachusetts, and the party whip, Representative Les Arends of Illinois, voted against the Administration.

Republicans could not have succeeded in cutting the social welfare funds, however, without the help of the Southern Democrats.

Reds' Propaganda Challenge To "Voice"

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The air waves crackle these days and nights with the rival claims of pro and anti-Communist spokesmen, waging a bitter cold war over the Middle East.

The significance of this, to Washington, is that while it goes on, the Voice of America should not be muffled.

It may have been doing an expensive job, it could do a better job—as who couldn't—but it has a job to do in the battle for men's minds.

Take, for instance, a Voice of Moscow broadcast in English to the United States on May 8. It accused the American press of trying to make out that "Moscow is trying to impose its tyranny on the Middle East."

It isn't that way at all, the Moscow announcer, Nikolai Andreyev declared. It's the other way around.

ACCORDING to him, "The

History From The Times Files

TEN YEARS AGO

Veterans Administration reported total of 560 loans made to veterans in Allegany County in year's time; only seven defaults listed.

Death of George S. Douglas, 78, Hill Street.

Seventh Day Adventist Church organized Missionary Volunteer Society for young people.

TWENTY YEARS AGO
May 22, 1937

Fred Bosenberg, 46, Baltimore Avenue, died of injuries suffered when car plunged from road near Ridgeley.

J. M. Grayson named business manager of Local 453, Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Stableners and Helpers Union.

Death of George E. Pearce, 76, Frostburg; Frank A. Brobst, 65, Swanton; Miss Margaret Grant, 73, Ridgeley.

So the old coalition stays hitched on social welfare issues. Formerly this coalition also worked on civil rights measures. Republicans, chiefly from the Midwest, contributed enough votes or influence in the right places to keep civil rights bills sequestered in committee in exchange for Southern support against welfare bills.

HOWEVER, this changed in the last session of Congress. A number of Republicans with large Negro constituencies bolted the alliance with Southern Democrats on civil rights.

They found it was becoming politically dangerous to play footsie with the Southerners, especially since the Republican party was making an issue of Southern antagonism to civil rights legislation in the then-upcoming national election.

These Republicans teamed up with Northern Democrats in a new coalition that forced the Eisenhower Administration's civil rights bill to the floor of the House last session. There it was passed, only to get pigeon-holed in the closing days of Congress in the Senate.

This session the same thing is expected to happen in the House, but with a change in the Senate. The Senate GOP leader, William F. Knowland of California, who acquiesced last session in the quiet burial of the civil rights bill, now is demanding action loudly and seems to mean it.

Any time they want to, Republicans can get a civil rights bill to the floor of the Senate in cooperation with Northern Democrats.

So the shift of coalitions here helps President Eisenhower.

ANOTHER old coalition between Southern Democrats and Midwest Republicans that antedates that on welfare measures is the combination on agricultural matters. It was variously labeled the beet-cotton bloc and the beet-corn-cotton bloc.

That, however, was shattered last week when Southerners deserted their old Midwest Republican allies to knock most of the props out from under the soil bank program.

You'll recall that the soil bank was sponsored in the last Congress by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, who originally had opposed it, under heavy pressure from GOP political managers who urged it to hold disaffected Middle West farm votes in the 1956 election.

Another surprising shift is that of a number of Southern Democrats, especially in districts where textile manufacturing is concentrated, away from the traditional low-tariff attitude in the South which looked to foreign markets for its cotton.

THIS CAME out in the last Congress when a number of Southern Democrats voted against extension of the reciprocal trade program, itself sponsored by a Southerner and a veteran one, the late Senator and Secretary of State, Cordell Hull of Tennessee.

Southerners in textile-manufacturing sections were aroused over the threat of cheap Japanese imports. This Southern defection may pose a real danger to the reciprocal trade program, under which we negotiate tariff cuts with other nations, when it comes up for renewal next year in Congress.

Likewise, some Southern Democrats are departing from their traditional internationalism to complain about foreign economic and military aid.

MR. GRAHAM, as almost everyone knows by now, has moved into Madison Square Garden for a considerable number of consecutive days to conduct a high-pressure, beautifully organized, evangelical crusade, designed to convert as many persons as possible to the acceptance of Christ and to instill as deeply as possible, a sense of morality into those who do not accept.

The crusade has been launched in a tidal wave of publicity, one facet of which is the cost of $900,000 to the Graham organization. The revivalist will spend that much for expenses. There is no calculating what sum will come back to him in contributions. His theme will be that New York is a vastly wicked city requiring a gigantic spiritual and moral bath.

THERE IS NO intention of debating the last with Mr. Graham. My belief is, considering all things numerically, that New York is no more politically corrupt than any other city, has less sinfulness (using vice as a yardstick) than most cities, and most New Yorkers work too hard, think too much and have too many impingements of tension to be wholeheartedly wicked.

In many respects, it is a naive city, not a fraction as evil as many smaller cities and towns I could name and spell out. Be that as it may...

It is also my belief, once the initial hubbub and publicity subside, that the revival will simmer down to a quiet, uneventful occasion. There is no intention of mockery or disrespect when I report that New York, at varying times, has become just as excited about the advent of miniature golf and professional basketball.

Why Not Just Quit Smoking?

WASHINGTON — The Army is about to dress itself in new forest-green uniforms, and these are downright handsome, except for one thing. They bulge when a soldier puts a package of cigarettes in his pocket.

This destruction of the trim lines is no good, and the military—I swear it—is considering the use of flat cigarette cases to maintain the svelte look.

This proves that running an Army includes many things besides shooting at the enemy, and we might as well get down now to the testimony before the House Ways and Means Committee of Major General Alfred B. Denniston, the deputy quartermaster general.

HE WORE ONE of these green suits himself. He said everybody, including soldiers, their ladies, and civilians seemed to like the new Army green. It is practical, too.

Not only does it hold its press, but when a fighting man spills some gravy down his front, it shows much less than it did on his old olive-drab suit. This will result in fewer cleaning bills.

The general said there was only one trouble. Bulges. He showed the lawmakers how he carried his cigarettes in his coat pocket.

"I put them in there," he said, putting them in, "and you can see that the bulge shows and tends to throw this tite pocket seams out a little. I think we are going to have to start carrying flat cigarette cases."

ONE OF THE things that pleases the general is the new green cap. It doesn't carry so much gold braid and it only costs $19.25. General Denniston said he had to plunk down $60 for his old cap, mostly because of the genuine gold bullion splattered on it. This naturally brought up the subject of imitation gold for officers' caps.

"We have all seen the metallic thread that is woven into the upholstery of automobiles and in ladies' gowns," said the general. "That so far is the best substitute for gold, but it tends to bind on the sleeve, while the stripe on the trousers will not take a real hot iron. We are not sufficiently satisfied with it."

ANOTHER discovery made by the Army (a little late, it would seem to a civilian) is stretch socks. I've been wearing them now for five years; the Army has decided they are a good thing and soon will start issuing them in three sizes, instead of eight.

This information caused Representative Daniel J. Flood to observe that he personally has worn some of the Army's 19-inch socks, designed to go with walking shorts.

"They are without a doubt the best looking and best fitting long stockings to be worn with shorts that I have ever seen any place in the world. I told that major last year I didn't think they

NEW YORK—There is a cult in New York which has as its major tenet the credo that nothing is surprising or even important. The cult has no name, only a symbol. The symbol is the shrugged shoulder, usually the right shoulder.

It has no motto, only a phrase—"It figures!" It has no formal membership list or rules for membership. Anyone can join. Most New Yorkers belong to it. Billy Graham will meet it.

Assignment: America

NEW ORLEANS—New Orleans people who know their history have a new way of stating an old slogan. They say, "Never underestimate the power of a loony woman."

For upon 19th Century women, both of them power-mad, rests the credit and blame for two great New Orleans traditions—voodoo, the ancient religio-superstitious cult that began in Africa and is still painfully dying out in Louisiana; and Tulane University, the efficient modern college that was dedicated to an insane woman.

Marie Le Veau is the name of the beautiful gal who staged the last public voodoo ceremony in New Orleans. Under a perfect sphere of January moon, the amber-skinned Miss Le Veau, gownned in a short skirt of fig leaves, gathered most of the wide-eyed Negroes in town to her presence by wrapping herself in a live, nine-foot African python.

WHILE THE DRUMS beat, Marie asked for tokens of faith to the great Zombi whom she was representing, and a thousand or more people—with hate in their hearts, for white tyranny, and love for this woman who defied snakes and whites alike—gave her gifts.

Unfortunately for Miss Le Veau, her voodoo rites were reported by a sneaky non-believer to the general of the white army stationed in New Orleans at the time. He ordered her activities outlawed, and confiscated the gifts of goodies from her fans.

Marie went mad with rage, died less than a year after her last ceremony, Jan. 27, 1882.

What remains of her and of voodoo in the South are evidenced in St. Louis Cemetery, where her tomb still is occasionally marked with fresh red crosses.

THE OTHER WOMAN—a white beauty named Madame La Laurie, French by marriage, New Orleanser by romantic inclination—was the beloved of young Paul Tulane, a poor New Jersey boy who went to New Orleans in the early 1850's to seek his fortune.

Tulane met and admired the pirate Jean La Fitte, who was, at the time, "going straight" by operating a blacksmith shop. So taken was Tulane with the heroic personage of the pirate that he asked to be an apprentice in iron-working. La Fitte, who was not happy long on land, left him 2,000 hard-fought-for dollars and turned him over to another blacksmith for tutelage.

The young man began to grow rich and powerful, putting his money into a mercantile company instead of keeping his nose to the forge. About the time he controlled a goodly share of New Orleans, Tulane met one Madame La Laurie—ruined to be the most heartless woman in town. The story was that she cruelly beat her mulatto Negroes. But our boy was too impassioned to care.

One night, the Negroes got back at his enamored and burned down her mansion. Overcome with fear, she confessed that the tales of her cruelty were true—and Tulane was forced to sneak her out of the city to save her life.

The city limits were not far enough. To protect her from an enraged throng, he had to secure passage for Madame La Laurie back to France. For 24 years thereafter, Tulane waited in New Orleans for her promised return and, in 1888, learned that she had died in Paris, a raving maniac.

With a broken heart, he gave most of his money toward the foundation of an institution he hoped would bear her name. (International News Service)

KASSEL, Germany — A small, sixth-floor chemical laboratory here has won a reputation with animal lovers in three continents. It turns out one of the world's strangest commercial products: animal-repellent scents.

It took many years of research for Dr. Hubert Hildebrandt to build up his present stock of more than 150 synthetic and natural scents, ranging from the sweet fragrance of a cherry blossom to "Lion 4"—extra strong.

"As a psychologist, I learned that scents influence the animal's mental life more than anything else," Hildebrandt says. But it took 50 testing stations all over West Germany to find out the exact reaction of an animal to different scents. Today, Hildebrandt supplies scents to buyers in Africa, America and Europe.

"LION 4" IS ONE of Hildebrandt's latest productions. It was developed shortly before he received a desperate call from game ranger Ian Player, Mubabata, South Africa, that marauding hippos were causing widespread damage to his farm in Zululand.

Hildebrandt sent an assistant to the Berlin zoo to find out what smell the hippos disliked most.

The assistant reported: "Basic anthro-pine—synthetic human perspiration—did not shy them away. They were unimpressed by tiger scent, too. Finally, I tried Lion 4. They took to their heels immediately."

An elephant-repelling scent is now being tested in the national park of Kenya, British East Africa. Testers have informed Dr. Hildebrandt that lion's scent was a total failure.

Good results were achieved with human smell but the best repellent was found to be a special blossom fragrance.

A special unidentified scent was used to check the porcupines harassing the farm of Dr. Gernot Zillig, of Scotch Village, in Nova Scotia.

A U. S. FIRM has inquired about protecting cable insulations with repellent smell because they are often damaged by squirrels.

In Germany, a firm wants its glass wool prepared to repel mice frequently making their home in it.

Human smell helped to cope with a problem a state-employed Yugoslav forester had to face near Zagreb.

"How can we stop the stags in Croatia from damaging crops without shooting them?" a forester asked. A few bottles of anthropine scared them away.

A similar request has been received from Communist Czechoslovakia. Swedish elks also are being restrained with anthropine.

Near Altoetting, Germany, anthropine will soon help to eliminate a major source of danger for deer. Numerous deer drown in a canal. Anthropine-soaked sponges dangling over the water keep the animals away.

FSTC Student Newspaper Staff Holds Annual Event

Rodeheaver Principal Of Area School

OAKLAND—Robert Rodeheaver, art and core instructor at Southern High School for several years, has been named principal of Center Street school here for the coming school year, it was announced by Willard L. Hawkins, county superintendent of schools. Announcement was made following an official meeting of the Board of Education.

Heretofore one principal had served both the Annex and Center Street School, but Hawkins pointed out that the new school will be opened early during the coming school year and is located such a distance from the Center Street School as to make this plan no longer practical. The principal of both schools, Foster Riggs, will devote full time to the administrative and supervisory duties at the new elementary school.

Hawkins said Rodeheaver was selected as a result of his outstanding work during the past several years at Southern and for ways in which he has exhibited leadership qualities in his profession as well as for his ability to work well with pupils, parents and teachers.

Rodeheaver was graduated from West Virginia University and is working on his Master's degree at the university.

Fourth Annual House, Garden Tour Scheduled

MOOREFIELD—Eight homes in Moorefield, two of which have been shown before, and the Car-skadon home near Headsville will be open this year for Moorefield's fourth annual House and Garden Tour for the benefit of the Hardy County Public Library on Saturday, June 8.

"Kingwood Farm," six miles north of Burlington and half a mile east of Headsville on the Beaver Run Road, is being included in the Moorefield tour through the courtesy and cooperation of its present owners, Mr. and Mrs. James W. Car-skadon Jr. This is the first time this brick Georgian home, built about 1860 by James Car-skadon, a relative of the present owner, has been opened to the public and, as it is furnished through with antique furniture, silver and glass, it is expected to attract much interest and many visitors.

The two new local homes on the list are the "Green Valley Stock Farm," home of Mrs. S. L. Harper, and "Caledonia," the In-skeep home place. "Green Valley Farm," once known as the Baker place, is one of the oldest homes in the South Branch Valley and, although the furnishings are not antique, the house has evidences of its old-time construction. Mrs. Harper always has a yard of lovely flowers. "Caledonia" was built in 1876 by John In-skeep, grandfather of the present owner. In addition to antique furniture and old china and glass, Philip W. Women Ranked Third In Causes Of Embezzlement

LOS ANGELES — (INS) — Women, it appears, come in a poor third among the reasons for which men risk their freedom and good names by embezzling millions of dollars each year.

Leonard D. Jensen, of the Surety Underwriters Association of Southern California, rates gambling and liquor above women as the fruits most desired by men who turn to embezzling for financing.

Jensen said dishonest employees steal more than 500 million dollars yearly from their firms.

He described the typical embezzler as usually being a bright, eager-beaver type, about 35, ranging in importance from charwoman to executive.

Twenty-five per cent of all bankruptcies in business are brought about by embezzling on the part of employees.

Portrait Of Check Passer Put On File

BISMARCK, N. D. (AP)—A young man who described himself as a ranch hand went into Power Rudrud's photography studio here to have a picture taken.

He gave Rudrud a $22.50 check, from which the photographer retained $5 as the down payment. The bill was to be settled when the pictures were ready.

The check bounced. Rudrud told police, but the photographer is not empty-handed. He has the man's picture.

Long Seeking Advice From City Bankers

Asks Council Members To Meet With Group To Discuss Finances

In an intra-council memo made public today, John J. Long, city finance commissioner, has asked the Mayor and Council to consider assistance from local banking authorities.

Mayor Roy W. Eves, Street Commissioner William H. Buchholz and Water Commissioner William J. Edwards said they had no comment to make on the recommendation as they just received the memo this morning. Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Kegan is on his honeymoon.

Need Expert Advice

Long stated: "Current financial obligations, the magnitude of future projects and the circulation of petitions requesting referendum on the proposed 25 cent increase in the tax limitation convince me that we should seek expert advice prior to setting the 1957-58 budget in August."

"On October 11, 1954, I recommended to the Mayor and Council that a financial advisory committee be appointed. There was no action on the proposal."

"In my opinion, now is the time when the city's entire financial structure requires study and analysis. Following such a study, the financial program for the future should be charted. This is important for the city's credit rating, and to position itself to meet contractual financial obligations."

Agree To Meeting

"The following financial institution presidents have agreed to meet with me in early June and give their advice and recommendations."

"A. W. Tindall, First National; Joseph A. Naughton, Second National; C. A. Piper, Liberty Trust; A. J. Weber, Cumberland Savings; and Lynn C. Ashley, First Federal Savings and Loan Company."

Long said he would notify the Mayor and Council of the time and place of the meeting.

He added that the assistance and presence of the city auditor, solicitor and engineer is essential to success.

Shoe Repair Business Sold To Capuchins

Joe Idoni, proprietor of the Modern Shoe Repair at 14 Baltimore Street, has sold the goods and chattels of his business to the Capuchin Monks of Cumberland, according to a deed filed this morning in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Idoni, who has been in the shoe making and repair business here since 1928, has occupied the quarters where he is located for the past nine years.

He came to this country in 1913 and in the following year opened his first place of business at Grafton. Idoni learned the shoe making trade as a youth and has worked at it ever since. He spent 14 years of Grafton before coming here. His brother, Patsy Idoni, also is a local shoemaker and repair man.

Idoni will close his business June 8, he said this morning, and will sail for his native Italy on July 24. A native of Calabria, Reggio Calabria, in southern Italy, he plans an extended visit there as well as with his son, John, a medical doctor with offices in Rome.

The principal purpose of his visit, Idoni said, will be to try and persuade his son and wife, from whom he has been separated most of the time since coming to this country, to return to this country to live. He also has a married daughter, Mrs. Theresa Frangomeni, whose husband is a schoolteacher in California.

Idoni has made two previous lengthy visits to his homeland, in 1931 and 1946.

The equipment at Idoni's shop includes three shoe shine stands, a cash register, shoe finisher, stitcher machine, press machine, shoe stitcher, other machines and small tools.

Rev. Kilian Krings, superior of SS. Peter and Paul Monastery which is operated by the Capuchin Order, said the shoe making equipment will be sent to the Capuchin Brothers Training Center at St. Michael's College, Utuado, Puerto Rico.

Rev. Brother John, who left the local monastery May 1 for the Puerto Rico training center, will be in charge of the equipment when it arrives there. Father Kilian said. He was the senior brother in charge of equipment here before his transfer, he added. The college training center is under the supervision of Rev. Evan Anderson of Rochester, Pa.

Riders To Meet

Two Vehicle Counts Bring 6-Month Term

William Paul Adams, 34, Fort Ashby, was sentenced to six months in the Maryland House of Correction this morning in Trial Magistrate Court.

Magistrate Donald W. Mason found the man guilty of reckless driving and exceeding 70 miles per hour.

Adams was apprehended yesterday by Officers Edward Wilson and Floyd Buser after a 70-mile an hour chase down Virginia Avenue.

Yesterday afternoon the man entered a plea of not guilty to the charges, but today changed his plea to guilty.

Magistrate Mason sentenced him to three months on each count, stating that the sentences must run consecutively. The judge noted that Adams had a previous record of motor vehicle violations in West Virginia.

Officer Wilson testified in court that he and Officer Buser chased Adams through the streets of Cumberland at speeds better than 70 miles per hour after spotting the car traveling recklessly through the South Cumberland underpass on Virginia Avenue.

The car sped across the Willet Ford bridge and overturned on the West Virginia side, the officer said. He and Officer Buser said they arrived at the wreck seconds after it happened and found Adams trying to get out of the vehicle, apparently unharmed.

Jurist To Rule On Habeas Writ

Chief Judge George Henderson will preside at a hearing tomorrow at 9:15 a. m. in Allegany County Circuit Court on the application of James McHenry Chambers for a writ of habeas corpus.

Chambers, who has been charged with murdering his wife, 37-year-old Virginia P. Chambers, at their home on May 2, has been held in the county jail without bond since May 6.

The hearing tomorrow morning is to determine if Chambers is entitled to be released on bond and also for the court to determine the amount of bond if it should so rule.

Chambers is being represented by attorneys Edward J. Ryan and William L. Wilson Jr.

B&O Furloughs At Keyser Shops

Furlough notices have been posted in the Keyser car repair shops of the Cumberland Division of the B&O Railroad for 177 men. B&O officials added that no notices have been posted in the Cumberland shops.

The Keyser furloughs become effective Friday and the notice stated that "continued declines of business" was the reason for the layoff.

The men comprise four work units. After Friday the work force will amount to 220 men, including 150 on the operating force.

Judge Defers Decision On Sewer Costs

Frederick Street Residents Object To Project Costs

Three consolidated cases brought by the Mayor and Council against Frederick Street property owners for payment of storm sewer costs in conjunction with the improvement project on that street have been taken under advisement by Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris.

The opposing attorneys in this dispute agreed that the case hinged on the question of whether the Frederick Street property owners were given adequate notice that they would have to bear a share of the storm sewer costs.

The Mayor and City Council started the action which resulted in yesterday's hearing when they filed liens against Casper S. Browne and Mary J. Browne, his wife; Arthur H. Ropp, Raymond L. Zimerla and Mary K. Zimerla.

City Attorney Thomas B. Finan, who represented the city in yesterday's action, said the total cost of the project was $355,246 of which the city paid $297,780 and the federal government $257,466. Property owners were assessed $100,388 to reimburse the city for about one-third of its cost.

Sewers Necessary

Beginning the closing argument in the case, Finan cited a number of cases in which the Maryland Court of Appeals has upheld that partial information on a project is sufficient notice to the property owner. He also singled out an Arkansas case which ruled that notice that the project would include paving and otherwise improving a street was sufficient to enable the city to recover the storm sewer costs from the property owners. It was decided the storm sewers were necessary to effectuate the paving.

The ordinance adopted by the Mayor and City Council August 24, 1953, called for paving and otherwise improving Frederick Street to the city limits. The city attorney said this notice was enough.

George R. Hughes Jr., the first of the two attorneys for the property owners to argue, contended that $90,000 of the $100,388 being sought from the Frederick Street property owners concerns the storm sewers. He asserted that the storm sewers were designed to take care of much more than just the surface water running off property along Frederick Street. He said that street was a natural basin which received runoff from hills on both sides.

Detriment To Owners

Hughes also argued that in some respects the new street was a detriment to the property owners because it provides for only one-way traffic and parking on only one side of the street. It is not strictly a residential street but rather an arterial highway.

Officer Valentine testified in court this morning that Kemp struck a car owned by James B. Kelley, Barreilville, near the local bus station. The officer said Kemp continued on Mechanic Street and was later arrested on Centre Street after he had struck another car on Mechanic Street.

Pittsburgh Synod Holds Election; Votes Counted

Delegates to the 19th annual session of the Pittsburgh Synod of Evangelical and Reformed Churches balloted today at the fourth session in Salem E&R Church, Frostburg.

Rev. Harvey W. Black, D.D., incumbent president, of Jeannette, Pa., was nominated to retain his post, along with Rev. Russell C. Eryh, Ph.D., of Greensburg, Pa. The presidency of the synod is for a four-year term.

Nominated for the vice presidency, a two-year term, were Rev. George T. Fitz, D.D., Johnstown, Pa.; and Rev. Carl H. Clapp, Cumberland; for treasurer, also a two-year term, Rev. Eli R. Fabian, Berlin, Pa.; incumbent; and Rev. William S. Brown, Meadville, Pa.

For the international missions committee of the synod two members were nominated for the three-year term. They are Rev. Paul V. Taylor, Ph.D., of Frostburg; and Rev. Arthur T. Gerhold, of Meadville.

Keynote Cites Progress

The more than 200 delegates from the western and southern sections of Maryland and Pennsylvania and a large number of members from local churches, heard the keynote, Dr. Robert C. Stanger, pastor of Bethany Church, Chicago, proclaim that great progress has been attained in all avenues of Christian service in the past year.

In addition, he pointed out that 55 per cent of the current budget was obtained in the past year and said a three-year program of advancement has been established by the national organization with these main aims: (1) A renewed emphasis on evangelism within the church by the clergy, but more particularly by lay people; construction of 100 new churches for which a revolving loan fund will be established; and placing 700 more fulltime church workers in service which will almost double the number of workers in the field.

Merger of the Congregational and Christian churches and Evangelical and Reformed Church which is now the United Church of Christ, is unique, he said, in that it is a "merger across inherited cultural lines" rather than a merger among families of churches.

Rev. Dr. Harvey W. Black, president of Jeannette, Pa., gave his annual report at yesterday's session and emphasized the scarcity of ministers and said filling of vacant pastorates is the No. 1 problem for the synod president and outlined methods used in attaining the goal.

80 Show Increase

Statistically, he said 80 congregations had an increase in membership, 55 decreased and 15 remained the same. Membership in the synod at year's end was 32,473, a gain of 199. Three congregations dedicated new educational buildings in 1956; two started church buildings; three education buildings; two others erected new parsonages and another purchased a parsonage. Major repairs and improvements to church property were reported by others, Dr. Black said.

Yesterday's program opened with holy communion conducted by Rev. Black, Rev. Eli R. Fabian of Berlin, Pa., and Rev. George R. Wehler, host pastor.

College Student Cleared On Manslaughter Charges

FREDERICK, Md. (AP)—A Mount St. Mary's College student has been cleared of manslaughter charges in the death of two companions who were killed when his car crashed.

Richard D. Gardiner, 20, was acquitted of the more serious charges in Circuit Court yesterday. However, Judge Patrick M. Schnauffer found the Bordentown, N.Y. youth guilty of reckless driving and fined him $200 and costs.

According to State Police, Gardiner was driving a car which crashed into an embankment at the intersection of Maryland 97 and the Tract Road near Emmitsburg last April 1.

Those killed in the accident were two fellow students, Edward Galen, 20, of Philadelphia, and John Daley, 20, of Englewood, N.J.

The judge found that Gardiner was not guilty of "wanton, reckless disregard" for human life and granted the defense motion for a directed verdict of acquittal. The youth admitted having had some beers at a tavern.

ing along that street than any other in Cumberland. He added that the total overall cost was only about 10 per cent above the $500,000 figure that was used by the city officials in discussing the project with property owners.

The city attorney added that there is no doubt that the property owners should pay the cost of the catch basins and leaders. Only 10 per cent of the cost of the storm sewer is being charged to the property owners, he concluded.

Only three witnesses were called. The city used City Engineer C. R. Nuzum and Paul A. Kemper, a construction engineer with the State Roads Commission. The only defense witness was W. Edward Eichner, 1100 Frederick Street, who testified that there was no statement by any city officials at the August 24, 1953, meeting at City Hall that the property owners would have to pay for the storm sewer. Half of the curbing and half of the sidewalk man, their only enemy, according to the property owners, incurred the cost.

Lopez Keeping Word Yanks Can Lose Pennant

Pierce Hurls Four-Hitter; Champions Now Third

By FRED DE LUCA
NEW YORK (INS)—At Lopez, with the help of the best trade Frank Lane ever made, is living up to his word that the New York Yankees can be beaten out of the pennant.

The Chicago White Sox manager says that any one of four teams—the White Sox, Cleveland, Detroit or Boston—could take the American League flag away from the Yankees this year.

And if there are any doubts about the league standing and last night's games as proof.

Shove Yanks To Third
The White Sox stormed into the Yankee lair and defeated the world champions, 3 to 1, behind Billy Pierce's four-hit pitching. It was Chicago's eighth win in a row and pushed the Yanks into third place, three games out.

It was the sixth victory for Pierce, who came to Chicago from Detroit in 1949 in what Frank Lane calls "the first and the best trade" he ever made for the Sox.

Pierce gave up an unearned run in the fourth before retiring the last 16 Yankees in a row. The White Sox, with the help of a Yankee miscue, scored three times in the sixth off Whitey Ford, who was pitching for the first time since he injured his arm May 4.

With one out in the sixth, Larry Doby walked and Bobby Richardson dropped a throw that would have forced Doby at second. Jim Rivera followed with a single that tied the game and then Bubba Phillips squeezed home the lead run. Pierce's single delivered the third tally.

Elsewhere in the A. L., Early Wynn won his fifth at Cleveland, thumped Boston, 8 to 2. Rino Bertoia's single scored the winning run as Detroit edged Baltimore, 2 to 1, in 16 innings, and Camilo Pascual hurled his first big league shutout as Washington beat Kansas City, 3 to 0.

Podres Cuts Reds' Lead
In the National League, Johnny Podres hurled the Brooklyn Dodgers to a 6-to-1 victory over Cincinnati that cut the Redlegs' league lead to 1½ games. The Milwaukee-Philadelphia game ended in a 1-1 tie when rain halted activities in the sixth inning.

The Pittsburgh-St. Louis game, also was rained out and the Chicago Cubs beat New York, 4 to 3, when two Giant errors with two out in the ninth permitted the Bruins to come from behind. Wynn drove in two Cleveland runs and Chico Carrasquel hit a grand slam homer off Dave Sisler. The Red Sox made five errors with Billy Klaus making three of them in the sixth inning.

In the next frame, Klaus stopped a ground ball with his head and was hospitalized. Bertoia's single off Baltimore's first reliever, Mike Fornieles, delivered Paul Foylack, the first Detroit bullpener, with the big run. Jim Bunning had started for Detroit and Ray Moore opened for the Orioles. Moore homered for Baltimore's only run but he also walked home the Detroit tally. Al Kaline threw out what would have been the winning Baltimore run at the plate in the ninth.

Baltimore's Billy Gardner set a new major league record for second basemen when he was credited with 12 putouts. Pascual's shutout extended Kansas City's scoreless string through 29 innings. Lou Berberet's homer in the sixth off Ryne Duren was the first Washington safety.

Reese Paces Dodgers
Pee Wee Reese drove in three Brooklyn runs with a homer and single and Sandy Amoros belted home another pair with a round tripper. It was Brooklyn's fifth straight win and moved them into a second place tie with Milwaukee. Hal Jeffcoat was the Field in a City Rec Softball League game. Yesterday's tilt between Post Playground and National Guard was washed out.

Big Ten Will Discuss Financial Assistance

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Big Ten athletic directors today open preliminary discussions on proposed modifications of the conference's new financial aid to athletes plan. The proposals will be placed before faculty representatives who meet Friday and Saturday.

Unanimous approval is predicted for an amendment that would provide awards of board, room, books, tuition and fees—regardless of proven need of an athlete—to graduates in the upper quarter of their high school classes.

WILLIE'S BASE-RUNNING SKILL — Fancy footwork is displayed by Willie Mays of the New York Giants as he sprints all the way from first to third on an infield out in sixth inning of game yesterday against Chicago. He is shown, top to bottom, beating throw from Cub first baseman Dale Long to third baseman Ernie Banks. Willie also stole home but Cubs won, 4-3, on a pair of Giant errors in the ninth inning. Hank Aaron's Feats Carry Braves' Club

MILWAUKEE (P)—As Hank Aaron goes, so go the Milwaukee Braves.

After a fast start in which manager Fred Haney's crew won 9 of 11 games in April, they slowed to a 9-8 pace in May.

In their right losses this month, the 23-year-old Aaron has gone hitless in four of them.

Braves' Whole Show
No one can say that the National League's defending batting champion hasn't been just about the whole show for the Braves.

He is leading the league in batting with a .360 average and in home runs with 11 and is tied for the runs batted in leadership with Brooklyn Carl Furillo with 29.

But, after Aaron, the Braves' averages trail off like a kite in a down draft. Joe Adcock is the only other regular hitting above .300. He has .320. Then comes Billy Bruton, .280; Del Crandall, .275; Eddie Mathews, .273; Johnny Logan, .265; Danny O'Connell, .244 and Chuck Tanner, .205.

"He's carrying the club," said Mathews last night after the Braves and the Philadelphia Phillies played in a 1-1 tie in a rain-abbreviated 5½ inning game. "I don't know where we'd be without him."

Worth 'Million Dollars'
Bobby Bragan, Pittsburgh's manager, recently said, "The Braves would be in real trouble if anything happened to Aaron—he's worth a million dollars."

Furillo, Dodgers' rightfielder, put it this way, "they ought to worship the ground he walks on." Lately there has been talk that a few pitchers around the league have discovered the carefree Aaron's "weakness."

But Johnny Antonelli of the New York Giants, who has "held" Aaron to one hit in five swings so far, said "all you can do with Aaron or any other good hitter is never let him see the same pitch in the same spot twice in succession."

City Rec Tilt Today
Peskin's Shoe Store clashes with South End Democrat Club today, 6:15 p.m., at East Side Yawkee. Hal Jeffcoat was the Field in a City Rec Softball League game. Yesterday's tilt between Post Playground and National Guard was washed out.

RALEIGH, N. C. (P)—Duke University's Atlantic Coast Conference baseball champions dominated the All-Star squad announced today by the Atlantic Coast Sports Writers Assn.

North Carolina State is represented by three players and Wake Forest and North Carolina two each on the 12-man squad. ACC baseball coaches participated in the voting along with members of the press, radio and television.

Pete Maynard, Duke's hard-hitting sophomore outfielder, was the only unanimous choice, being named on each of the 42 ballots cast in the poll.

Other Duke players named on the first team squad are outfielder and track ace Dave Simmer, pitcher Dick Smallwood, shortstop Len Bonczek and third baseman Andy Cockrell.

N. C. State placed catcher Bob Kennel, outfielder Dick Hunter and first baseman Eddie Wyant. Wake Forest contributed second baseman Al Baker and utility infielder Bill Barnes. North Carolina is represented by pitcher Jim Raugh and utility outfielder Dick Hudson.

Bold Ruler earned $117,825 during Hialeah's 1957 winter meeting.

Wet Grounds Postpone Tilts Tri-State Area

Wet grounds played havoc with district high school baseball yesterday with the entire slate being postponed.

Two of the Allegheny County League clashes have been rescheduled for this afternoon, providing the fields were sufficiently dried out.

Pacing Fort Hill was to play Beall in Frostburg with Allegheny and Mt. Savage again attempting to get in their clash at Campobello. The LaSalle and Flintstone tilt has been reset for Monday at Flintstone while no date has been set for the Bruce-at-Valley fray.

Moorefield and Elk Garden's semi-final clash in Region 4 was also a victim with the two clubs attempting to get the contest in this afternoon on Slayman Field in Keyser. The other semi-final is today with unbeaten Martinsburg tangling with Capon Bridge at Charles Town.

Today's winners will play for the regional crown and the right to compete in the state title event at Parkersburg. Moorefield won last season.

Only one regularly-scheduled contest is billed today with West Virginia School for the Deaf (Romney) and Paw Paw closing out their Potomac Valley Conference season on the Pirates field.

LaVale Orioles will be after first place in the Pen-Mar Little League today when they meet Cresaptown Eagles on the Parkside Field in LaVale at 6 p. m. The game has been moved up from tomorrow evening.

Cresaptown won its first game in three starts yesterday by trimming LaVale Maroons, 8-3, while Ellerslie also came up with its initial triumph for three attempts in dumping DAV No. 2, 11-8, at Cresaptown. Wet grounds forced postponement of the LaVale-at-Barreville clash for the league lead.

Behind the six-hit chucking of Clem and Wendt, Eagles had little trouble with Maroons, Little winners socked nine safeties, including a homer by Clem and a double by Ferrone. Scatletta, Stone and Snyder socked two baggers for the losers.

Ellerslie made 11 hits good for as many runs with Brewer collecting three and Jim Klahre getting a double and single. Ray Stevanus and Rodney Beachy had two-baggers for DAV.

Good Feeling Back, Pierce Tops Yanks

NEW YORK (AP)—"Funny thing," said Billy Pierce today, "sometimes you can win ball games and not even feel like you're a good pitcher."

The 30-year-old Chicago White Sox lefthander—a 20-game winner last year—said that he hadn't really felt good this season until he beat the New York Yankees last night, 3-1.

Feeling Varies
"I can't put my finger on it," he said, "I guess the best way to describe it is that sometimes you feel like an offensive pitcher and sometimes you feel like a defensive pitcher."

"It doesn't always have to do with the stuff you are throwing. I've been doing pretty good this year so far (6-2), but until last night's game, I always felt like I was on the defense."

Against the Yanks, though, Pierce was the complete master of the situation. He held the Bombers to a paltry four hits, although the Pale Hose had to come from behind a 1-0 deficit with three runs in the sixth inning to win.

"I've never seen him pitch better," said manager Casey Stengel of the Yanks. "He was getting stronger as he went along."

Said White Sox manager Al Lopez:

"This, of course, is the first time I've seen him pitch in the Yankee Stadium (Lopez managed Cleveland until this year). And I'd like to see more. He had them biting. Lead Yanks By Three
The White Sox now lead the Indians by two games and the Yanks by three.

"It was an important game for us," said Pierce, "because it gave our team as a whole a good boost. The Yanks had beaten us three times and we hadn't licked them once. If that kept up, the team could begin to think it was fixed."

Like the rest of the White Sox, from Lopez right on down, Pierce is not kidding himself that the Yanks are pushovers. But he thinks they can be beaten this year.

"If Bobby Richardson hadn't dropped a double-play throw from Andy Carey, we may have been beaten 1-0," said Pierce seriously. He was thinking back to another

Scribes Again Ban Women In Press Box

BOSTON (AP)—Ladies, take heed. The baseball press box will remain a male sanctuary—in Boston, at least.

A vote of the Boston chapter of the Baseball Writers Assn., yesterday denied Doris O'Donnell of the Cleveland News admission to the Fenway Park press box to cover the Indians-Boston Red Sox game.

Instead, the attractive brunette sat in a rooftop box seat on the left field side of home plate.

Miss O'Donnell is not the first woman sports writer by a long shot. But she holds some kind of distinction because she is traveling as a member of the Cleveland Press on the team's current road trip.

"Why should things be any different just because this is baseball?" Miss O'Donnell asked.

"I've tested tanks for the army. I've ridden an elephant in the circus. I've driven cabs. Last year, I went to Russia for the paper."

"I sat in the press box in Baltimore and Washington," she said but admitted she couldn't crash the writer's roost at New York's Yankee Stadium.

Cleveland manager Kirby Farrell has vetoed Miss O'Donnell's visit to the bench.

"It's no place for a lady," Farrell explained. "Somebody might let a few words slip. I know I've even picked up a few new ones since I've been managing this club."

key man in the deal with the Cubs. That this is now the best infield since he came to Pittsburgh. Another Bragan quote.

"You know he doesn't like Dick Groat. The shortstop is proud of his abilities, and justly so. Others in the league call him the best all-around player on the club."

"Groat himself must be getting a little tired of being ridiculed by his manager."

"And people in Pittsburgh have indicated they dislike the quotes attributed to Bragan. Their voices have been heard at Forbes Field, a spot where the Pirates don't like to lose customers."

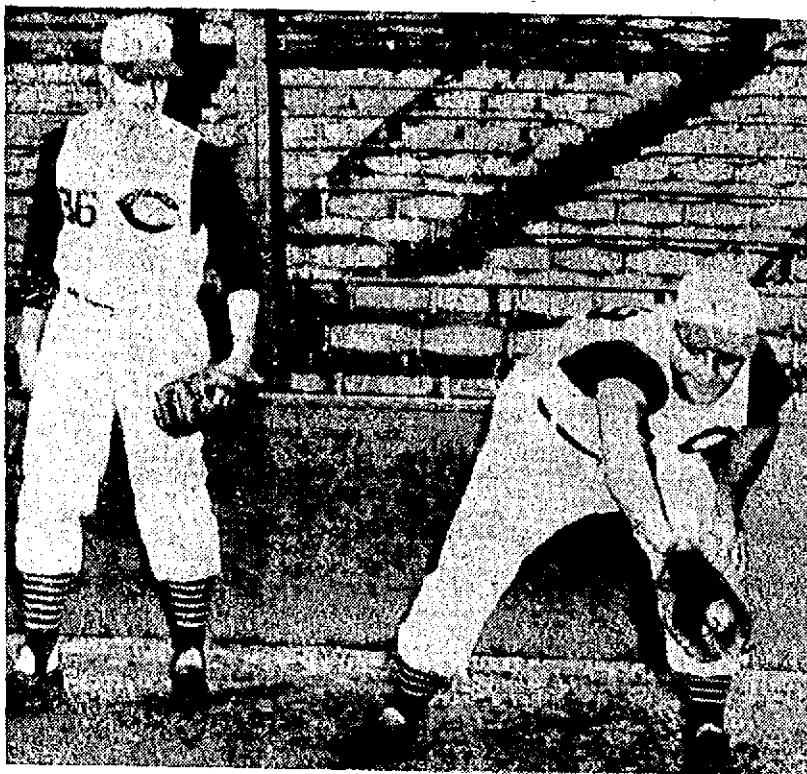

"Last August 22, in Cincinnati, he pointed out in his memorable 'press conference,' while hitting fungoes—that he wouldn't be here on the same date in 1957 with the same club."

"He pointed out his major leaguers at the time as Bill Mazeroski, Thomas, Virdon, Clemente and Lee Walls, along with three or four pitchers. Walls is in Chicago. New Mazeroski is a Triple-A infielder. Baker, who not more than two weeks ago, according to Bragan would have insured Milwaukee a pennant playing second base for them, is also in that class."

Carrington Speaker At College Dinner

CHESTERTOWN—The annual sports award dinner at Washington College will be held here tomorrow evening, according to Edward L. Athey, director of athletics at the Shore College.

George F. Carrington, principal of Crisfield (Md.) High School who is past president of the Maryland State High School Athletic Association, will be the main speaker. A Washington graduate, class of 1929, Mr. Carrington was director of athletics at Frostburg State Teachers College before World War II. During the war he was a Red Cross field director in the European Theatre of operations.

Tunney To Testify Today For IBC In Anti-Trust Suit

NEW YORK (INS)—The International Boxing Club, fighting for its life in a government anti-trust suit, will call former heavyweight champion Gene Tunney today to testify in its behalf.

Tunney, who became the richest heavyweight champion of all time, will be among six or seven witnesses called by the defense when U. S. District Court hearings are resumed before Judge Sylvester J. Ryan, who already has ruled the IBC a monopoly.

Judge Ryan will listen to the government's answer to the IBC's counter-proposal decree before the defense begins calling a string of witnesses which will include various company officials and possibly Cus D'Amato, rebellious manager of heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson.

The government five years ago started its civil action against the IBC and on March 8 Judge Ryan declared president Jim Norris' club a monopoly. He began hearing arguments from both sides Monday preparatory to handing down a penalty.

Monday the Justice Department argued that the only solution was "dissolution and divorce," meaning the total destruction of the IBC and a drastic change in the structure of boxing in this country.

Pen-Mar Games Set Saturday Afternoon

The three Pen-Mar Baseball League games postponed Sunday because of rain have been rescheduled for Saturday afternoon.

Getting seven of their runs in the last three frames, including three in the top of the seventh, Elks rallied to whip Moose, 9-7, at Sitcher Field in the only Rocking Chair Softball League contest played yesterday.

The battle for first place between Outdoor Club and VFW, the Celanese-K of C and Ritter's-Pittsburgh Plate tilts were all washed out by rain.

Dick Klavuhn hurled his third victory in four starts for the Elks and also helped his own cause with a triple and single.

Jim Mangus and Bob Price also banged out a pair of hits for the winners.

Joe Niland went the distance in losing his second game in three decisions for Moose.

The losers had seven hits with no player collecting more than one bingle. Jim Angellatta started at first base.

Elks, who had scored four markers in the fifth, were on the short end of a 7-6 count when the final frame opened. Bill Underdunk singled and scored the tying marker on Klavuhn's triple.

After Boh Pence was intentionally passed, Price singled home Klavuhn with what proved to be the winning run. Mangus followed with another single to score Price for the insurance tally.

PCC May Modify Penalties Levied On Grid Players

SPOKANE, Wash. (INS)—Faculty representatives from Pacific Coast Conference schools are expected today to take up the question of possible modification of ineligibility penalties levied on senior football players at UCLA and the University of Southern California.

A report was published by the Los Angeles Times stating that senior football players, presently declared ineligible for the full seasons because of illegal financial aid, will be allowed to play at least five consecutive games and may play the full schedule.

This report was denied by several faculty representatives including Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, of the University of California, who declared:

"You have it on my word of honor that the subject of modification of penalties for athletes at UCLA and USC has not been brought up, let alone discussed."

Seaborg said the representatives discussed now violation reports at yesterday's session but said no action will be announced until all such reports are considered.

Dr. Emmett Moore, the Conference president, said the matter of modification of past penalties is on the agenda and will be brought up after reports of new violations are completed.

Mary Haworth's Mail

Editor's Note: Girl, 13, worries her crowd at school by falling for well known heart breaker.

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I have a girl friend—I'll call her Margy—who is 13. She likes this boy, Bill, who is 17—who really enjoys hurting girls. He is out for fun, pretends he likes them (says he thinks he does); and I know he makes out plenty with Margy.

At dances he won't dance with Margy, just to get her mad—and he makes bets with other boys that she'll get mad. Other-wise, he is a nice boy, good-looking, with money and a wonderful personality. He treats some girls like dirt beneath his feet, as Margy knows—but still she likes him and is willing to get hurt. It was rumored some time ago that Bill liked another girl, Cathy, who is 17. They often walked arm-in-arm, but Cathy doesn't make out, and she liked Bill only as a friend. She and Bill are still good friends, but Margy thinks he likes her (Margy).

at parties, and kid like mad if they meet elsewhere; but that's all. So far as I know, Bill doesn't like Cathy specially; but he gives no clubs either way. However, he treats her very nicely, and if they have an argument or disagreement, he patches it up at once. He respects her very much—and he doesn't respect Margy.

As Margy's best friend, what can I do to discourage her from liking Bill? What can any of us do to help her put him out of her mind for good? The kids in our crowd have tried to talk her out of it; and some of the boys have fought with her about Bill, to no avail.

If anybody asks "Why does she take it?" (from Bill), somebody else always says, "It's because she's so young." But I am only 14, and I wouldn't let a fellow treat me like that. I respect myself. Please answer soon as I want to save Margy from being on Bill's list of "old burnt girl friends."—K. S.

Heartbreaker Is A Heel
DEAR K. S.: To put the picture in perspective, Margy might be a freshman in high school, and Bill, a senior classman, I suppose. And, no doubt, he is embarrassed, apologetic and defensive, amongst his peers (his fellow seniors), about the matter of robbing the cradle, and taking advantage of a baby—and so forth, and so on—as regards Margy. To cover his embarrassment and draw out his shame of conscience—which he can't help feeling, even though he may not admit the existence of conscience—he makes a big joke of her crush on him. He is double-dealing, in terms of professing publicly that he couldn't care less, thus giving the lie to his private behavior with Margy, which encourages her to think she is important to him, emotionally. His bets with the boys about not dancing with her, to get her goat, are a face-saving excuse for snubbing her at social events. He snubs her in public because he's ashamed of their relationship, ashamed of his part in it, for being an all-around heel with a kid who is fascinated by him. I call that stinker behavior, coming and going—a revolting stinker, as someone has said.

Girl Plays The Fool
Now, about Margy: She is playing the fool, of course, in fancying herself a siren at age 13, who might capture Bill's heart with trollop behavior. And it seems a pity that she has only her crowd at school, and a 14-year-old best friend (namely you), who are on their toes, trying to help her get straight about her mistake. Don't any of you kids have parents at home, with whom to discuss these things? I have written bluntly, in the hope that plain words may open Margy's eyes to her folly, and give Bill a candid camera shot of himself from the audience angle. Both Margy and Bill have much the same handicap in the field of romance. Each is completely infatuated with his own little self, and each in this instance is morbidly enjoying the "sensation" of being talked about, in reference to the other, no doubt. Ensign Cleared Of Reporting Wrong Motorist

BALTIMORE, Md. — A Federal Court jury has cleared Ensign Donald W. Johnston in a $30,000 damage suit brought by a motorist who said he was arrested falsely. Johnston, now a student flyer at Pensacola, Fla., but a midshipman in December 1955, when the incident occurred, gave police a wrong license number in reporting that a weaving car almost hit a formation of midshipmen.

Harry Kahan of Silver Spring was arrested and had to post bail at Annapolis. He testified he made several trips to a magistrate's court before he was cleared. The government, in defending Johnston, said he was following a superior officer's orders in trying to recall the license number for police. The jury handed down the verdict yesterday after a two-day trial. The St. Lawrence River is 1,800 miles long.

Ellington Has Close Contest In Annapolis

Democratic Mayor Re-elected By Only 154-Vote Margin

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Maryland's capital re-elected Democrat Arthur G. Ellington as mayor yesterday by a hairbreadth margin over Samuel Schenker, young Republican lawyer.

Complete unofficial returns gave Ellington 3,159 votes, Schenker 3,005. More than half the eligible voters turned out.

The 154-vote difference came as a surprise to Democrats, who outnumbered Republicans in registration by 7,065 to 3,951.

Schenker called his showing "a strong protest against present policies of the administration."

"The administration should take this into consideration in laying out its policies for the future," he said.

Democrats captured five of the eight seats on the board of aldermen, Republicans took two and Independent John Roger Fredland took the eighth Ward seat.

Democrats Robert H. Campbell in the First and Charles G. Bernstein in Seventh and Republican J. Narwood Brown in the Seventh—all incumbents—were unopposed.

Other Returns
Unofficial returns in the other wards showed:
Third — F. Elmer Gelhaus, Democrat, 534; Thomas M. Schifarella, Republican, 492.

Fourth — Roscoe J. Parker, Republican incumbent, 436; George Walter Belt, Democrat, 123.
Fifth — Emory G. Bowen, Democrat, 408; Lucian Lane Cleaver, independent, 343; Thomas Carl Stephen, Republican, 106.

Sixth — Walter Emerson Wiley, Democrat, 436; E. Kendall Barber, independent, 262; Harry J. Medford, Republican incumbent, 81.

Eighth — Fredland, 503; Edmund Coughlin, Democrat, 452; Sewell F. Sweeney, Republican, 60.
